

Vocational School / Electroneurophysiology

2024 - 2025 Academic Year

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY

Syllabus

Course Description
Name	Code	Semester	T+A Hour	Credit	ECTS
OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY	EFZ1124800	Fall Semester	2+0	2	2
Prerequisites Courses
Recommended Elective Courses	NONE
Language of Instruction	Turkish
Course Level	Short Cycle (Associate's Degree)
Course Type	Elective
Course Coordinator	Lect. Ali ŞENBAHÇE
Name of Lecturer(s)	Lect. Kübra Mine YİĞİCİ
Assistant(s)	NONE
Aim	To provide information about hazards and risks that may arise in the working environment, and the measures to protect from occupational diseases.
Course Content	This course contains; Occupational health and safety rules and common safety culture., Information about the labor legislation, legal rights and responsibilities of employees., Safety and health signs, use of personal protective equipment., The implementation of the technical principles of the causes and prevention of occupational accidents., The legal consequences of occupational accidents and occupational diseases., The causes of occupational diseases, workplace cleanliness and order., The implementation of the principles of disease prevention and protection techniques., Biological and psychosocial risk factors., First aid. damages and passive exposure to tobacco and tobacco products., Chemical, physical and ergonomic risk factors., Manual lifting and handling, working with display screen equipment, Flash, explosion, fire, and fire protection, evacuation and rescue., Safe use of work equipment., Electrical hazards, risks and precautions..
Course Learning Outcomes			Teaching Methods	Assessment Methods
Defines the importance of Occupational Health and Safety.			16, 5, 9	A
Explains the principles of protection from the Fire in his work areas.			16, 5, 9	A
Lists the legal rights of employees with their own cues.			16, 5, 9	A
Defines the ergonomic risk factors.			16, 5, 9	A
Teaching Methods	16: Question - Answer Technique, 5: Cooperative Learning, 9: Lecture Method
Assessment Methods	A: Traditional Written Exam
Lecture Schedule
Sequence	Topics	Preliminary Preparation
1	Occupational health and safety rules and common safety culture.	presentations
2	Information about the labor legislation, legal rights and responsibilities of employees.	presentations
3	Safety and health signs, use of personal protective equipment.	presentations
4	The implementation of the technical principles of the causes and prevention of occupational accidents.	presentations
5	The legal consequences of occupational accidents and occupational diseases.	presentations
6	The causes of occupational diseases, workplace cleanliness and order.	presentations
7	The implementation of the principles of disease prevention and protection techniques.	presentations
8	Biological and psychosocial risk factors.	presentations
9	First aid. damages and passive exposure to tobacco and tobacco products.	presentations
10	Chemical, physical and ergonomic risk factors.	presentations
11	Manual lifting and handling, working with display screen equipment	presentations
12	Flash, explosion, fire, and fire protection, evacuation and rescue.	presentations
13	Safe use of work equipment.	presentations
14	Electrical hazards, risks and precautions.	presentations
Evaluation Methods		Weight(%)
Midterm Exam		40
General Exam		60

Resources
Powerpoint notes will be given to students.